

DECEMBER 2018

HOPE

Blue, the colour of nostalgia, infinity and hope.

The colour range of hope extends from turquoise blue through to the whole palette of the colour blue and into the sector of the shades of cool green.

Hope has many aspects, too.

Hope as a longing, a wanderlust, a wish for a change, as an escape from dark colours or as a quiet and inner expectation.

Hope for light in true and dark times, hope for warmth in a cool and harsh environment and hope for a peaceful coexistence of all people...

Hope dies last, so one says, but hope should have no end at all; we never should give up hope as hopelessness is a dreadful death long before dying.